THE IDEA!

You're travelling, eager to get to your seaside house, and willing to leave everything else behind and just run to the beach but the noops ... you forgot your keys!!!

That's how the whole idea was born, from a true life experience which led me to travel an extra 150 km back just to get those keys because I could not find a way to have them delivered to me on the same day.

Has this ever happened to you too?
Maybe not your keys, may be a book, or a document...

Damn rush!
